

Alcuni dati importanti pubblicati da ISP Myanmar sul perchè la Cina è fortemente preoccupata per le vittorie della opposizione democratica birmana.

Le organizzazioni etniche armate (EAO) hanno sequestrato sei delle otto stazioni e dei varchi commerciali formali di confine tra Myanmar e Cina.

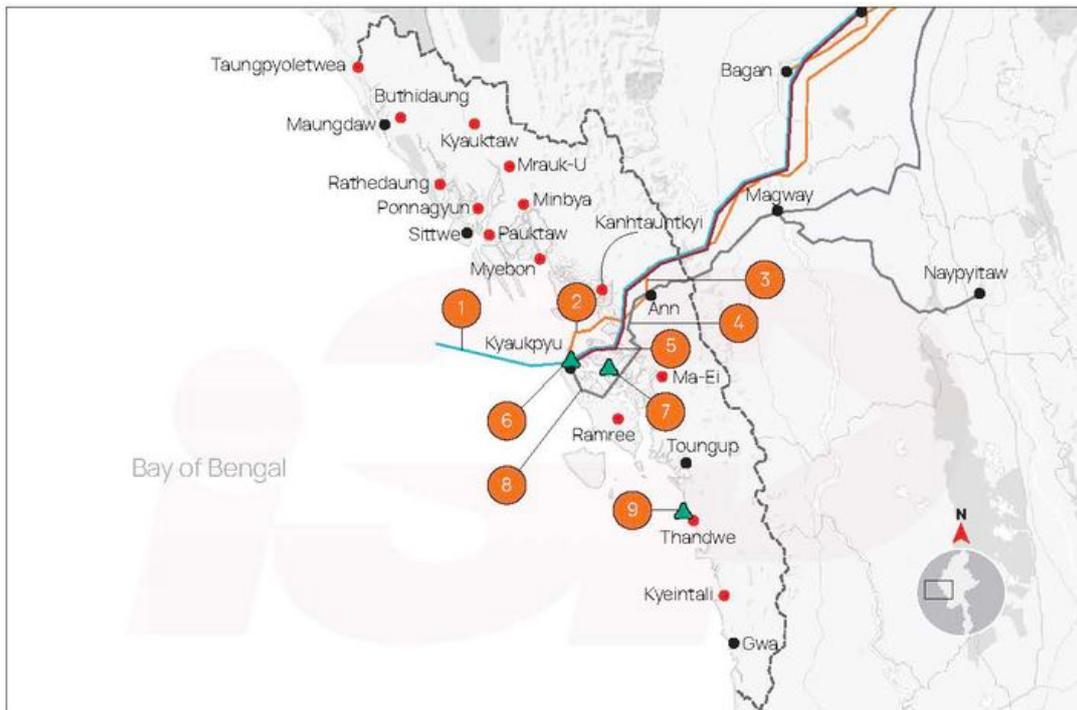

Tra febbraio 2021 e giugno 2024, il valore degli scambi commerciali attraverso queste sei stazioni ha superato i nove miliardi di USD. La stazione commerciale Muse, ora sotto il controllo della Three Brotherhood Alliance (3BHA), gestisce scambi commerciali per un valore medio di sei milioni di USD al giorno, mentre la stazione commerciale Chinshwehaw, controllata dal Myanmar National Democratic Alliance Army (MNDAA), elabora scambi commerciali per un valore di oltre un milione di USD al giorno.

A partire dal 18 agosto 2024, l'Arakan Army (AA) ha ottenuto il controllo parziale su nove degli 11 progetti cinesi nello Stato Rakhine. Tra questi rientrano il porto in acque profonde e la zona economica speciale di Kyaukphyu, il progetto ferroviario Mandalay-Kyaukphyu, l'oleodotto Cina-Myanmar per petrolio e gas naturale, nonché le rotte commerciali. Inoltre, l'AA controlla parzialmente il progetto stradale Kyaukphyu-Naypyitaw e il progetto eolico di Thandwe.

Al 18 agosto 2024, le organizzazioni armate etniche (EAO) e le forze di difesa popolare (PDF) hanno completamente sequestrato dieci dei 19 progetti cinesi situati nello stato settentrionale di Shan e nelle pianure centrali. Inoltre, le EAO hanno ottenuto un controllo parziale sulle infrastrutture chiave, tra cui l'oleodotto e l'oleodotto del gas naturale Cina-Myanmar, le linee elettriche transfrontaliere, il corridoio commerciale internazionale terra-mare (ILSTC), la ferrovia Muse-Mandalay e diverse rotte commerciali.
